

HERITAGE BUILDINGS

MSMR bring considered architectural thinking and creativity to the care and adaptation of historic buildings. Our experience spans residential, commercial projects, embassies, and cultural institutions - from minor interventions to extensive redevelopments. We understand the demands of heritage buildings and how to unlock their potential.

Working with specialist consultants, we combine conservation best practice with strategic thinking to develop compelling narratives and designs. We navigate the planning and listed building consent process, engaging constructively with local authorities and statutory bodies to secure approval and deliver results. Our approach balances preservation with practical need, enabling continued use and adding tangible value.

The outcome is buildings that retain their character but are reimagined to meet contemporary standards of performance and accessibility. Through thoughtful interventions, precise detailing, and collaborative working, we help our clients to realise the full potential of their historic properties.
